The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary and Guild, of St. Andrew's Cathedral, will be postponed until Monday, June 7, when it will meet in the Guild hall of the new parish house at 3 p. m.

At the meeting of the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange yesterday, it was decided to cut out the life-insurance clause in the by-laws. What will be done with the funds now on hand has not yet been decided, but action will probably be taken at the next meeting of the Exchange.

President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health has made arrangements with the Federal authorities at Washington so that a large part of the $50,000 appropriation for the Kalawao Leprosarium may be spent on the equipping and furnishing of a splendid laboratory to be situated near the present Receiving Station at Kalihi.

Governor Frear had a hearing at the Board of Agriculture and Forestry yesterday morning in reference to five proposed forest reserves, one of which will be at the top of Maunakea on Hawaii and will include 66,600 acres. One reserve on Kauai will take in about 36,000 acres and there will be two smaller ones on Maui. The official reservation will probably be made within a few days.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. B. Castle left for the Coast on the Lurline last evening.

N. C. Willifong returned on the Mauna Kea yesterday from a business trip to Hilo.

Z. C. Copeland left on the Lurline last night for the Coast. He will settle in Oregon and take charge of his father's ranch.

Judge Lyon, a kamaaina of Hawaii, came down from the Big Island yesterday on the Mauna Kea to be present at the session of the Hawaiian Board.

Thomas Birmingham and wife are passengers on the Marama which left here yesterday for New Zealand. They will be absent from the Territory four or five months.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

A special meeting of the members of the Honolulu Stock Exchange was convened yesterday for the purpose of considering proposed changes in the by-laws of the organization, in conformity with the sentiments of many of the members. The question of the life insurance clause in the by-laws was the main problem and it was finally decided to eliminate it entirely. There is a considerable amount of insurance money now on hand but no decision was made as to its disposition.

The objections to the provision for life insurance was based mainly on the belief that it could hardly be considered within the province of a stock exchange, and while it was acknowledged to have been a good thing in the past it was decided that under changed conditions it would be wiser to abandon it entirely. This view was concurred in without opposition. The rumor of a "secessionist" movement for the purpose of forming a new exchange does not seem to possess any foundation in fact, and the same is true of the reported friction among the members over the insurance provision.

Hawaiian Lumbering.

Under the amended agreement as to prices with the Santa Fe railroad company, the reorganized Puna Lumber Mill—formerly the Hawaiian Mahogany Company—is turning out a satisfactory number of ohia ties, the mill averaging quite a thousand a day. Of this output, some fifteen thousand a month are being shipped to the Santa Fe, the rest being put on the local market. During the week the schooner Prosper sailed from Hilo with a full cargo of ties and two other vessels—the Balboa and the W. H. Marston—are under charter by the Matson people to load ties. The former vessel will reach Hilo probably this week and the Marston early in July.

The lumbering branch of the Hawaiian Development Company is extending its lumbering railroad lines through the homestead lands upon which the timber rights have been purchased and this land is being rapidly cleared up. The negotiations for timber rights on the government lands adjoining are practically completed and it is expected that the mill output will be largely increased when this land is being worked over.

In addition to the work of cutting ties, the Puna mill is also turning out a shingle plant and is also turning out a large amount of lumber and other ohia products, including telephone pins, plough beams, and such.

The strike agitation has not penetrated the lumber camps to any appreciable extent and a dozen Japanese who appeared anxious to foster a strike settlement were replaced last week by others without any trouble.

Work is to be commenced very shortly on the timber lands of the Pacific Development Company, adjoining the Puna Mill's land, where E. H. Cant has secured timber rights. A small portable mill has been purchased by him and will be delivered at Hilo on the Enterprise. This is to be set up in the woods to cut ties, also for the Santa Fe, although not being sold directly to that company. The ties will be either taken to Kehena to be loaded for transportation to Hilo, where they will be reshipped, or taken to Pahoa, for shipment to Hilo by rail. Mr. Cant states that he is ready to instal a trolley system for the transportation of the ties from the mill to the shipping point.

The young rubber trees set out on this Pacific Development Company's lands are thriving and the promoters find the outlook very encouraging for this new industry.

Hilo Breakwater Progress.

To date, about twenty per cent. of the work under the Hilo breakwater contract is completed, the progress being satisfactory to all concerned. Contractor Metzger is preparing to instal a considerable amount of additional machinery both at the breakwater and at the quarry at Kapoho, however, with which much faster time can be made than at present. This machinery will consist of three additional derricks for handling the larger pieces of stone.

Realty Is Transferred.

The week has been fairly active from a real estate viewpoint. The most important transaction is the sale of the Hilo Hotel by the Spreckels interests to George Lycurgus. The Hawaii capital has long been in need of a hotel such as the Hilo Hotel will be after its rehabilitation under the Lycurgus management. The new owners will spend a considerable sum of money in making necessary repairs and providing up-to-date equipment. Locally, a number of exchanges of realty have been completed. Captain Miller is the reported purchaser of the property of Dr. C. B. Cooper on Makiki street for the sum of $12,000 and is in line with Captain Miller's realty investments in that portion of the city. Another residential property that has changed hands is that of the house and lot of J. H. Fisher, which has been sold to Mrs. Short for $2200. The real

The Honokaa Injunction Case.

Action has been temporarily deferred in the injunction petition asked by the Honokaa Sugar Company against the Hawaiian Irrigation Company on the ground that the former has violated an agreement for the delivery to the plantation of a stipulated amount of water. The demurrer to the petition was sustained, but the plaintiff corporation was given five days in which to make necessary amendment to the petition.

The petition of the Honokaa Sugar Company states that the plantation will suffer heavy loss unless the Hawaiian Irrigation Company is restrained from shutting off the flow of water from the Hamakua ditch. The petition says further that the fluming of cane is necessary to keep the mill in active operation and that, as a consequence, an uninterrupted supply of water is even more essential than if it was only needed for irrigating purposes.

Awaiting Rubber Report.

Those interested in rubber plantations in Mexico are looking forward with interest to the report of F. T. P. Waterhouse, who went to Mexico to make a personal examination of the rubber possibilities of that country in connection with the investments that have been made by Hawaiian capital in the Hidalgo Rubber Company.

The nature of Mr. Waterhouse's report has not yet been made public and he has given no intimation as to whether his conclusions are favorable or not. A large amount of rubber stock has been sold in the islands and it is believed that much will depend on the opinion that Mr. Waterhouse gives on the possibilities of the rubber plantations in the domains of Diaz.

The Tariff on Sugar.

The tariff on raw and refined sugar is occupying the center of attention in the debate on that all-important measure in the Senate at the present time. Senator Clay of Georgia has girded up his loins and appeared as the champion of a lower duty, and in connection therewith has gone deeply into the mathematics of protection. It is improbable, however, that Senator Clay's opinion will have any effect on the sugar schedules of the Payne-Aldrich bill. As far as the Senate is concerned, the sugar tariff is practically settled, and Senator Clay is simply being allowed to express his opinion, which seems to be hopelessly in the minority. Senator Clay would dearly like to cut the duties in half, his point being that the schedules, as approved by the House of Representatives, are a burden to the consumer that is not justified by the results.
